Usage of the plugin

Cohort type

On the top left of the plugin's principal page, you have two buttons, these buttons let you choose the cohort type, system or category.

Your Moodle administrator has chosen a default type, if you change the type, this change will be saved for the current session.

Changing the cohort type will only change the search fonction.
The "My courses" page will display cohorts from all types.

Search for a cohort

On the plugin's principal page, you have a form that allow you to search for a specific cohort and select it.

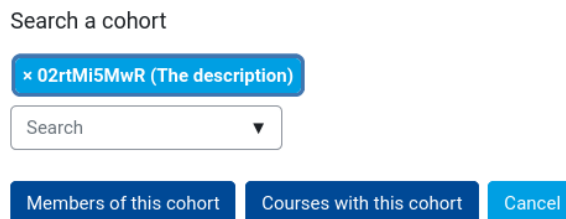

The form is titled 'Search a cohort'. It contains a blue button with a white 'x' and the text '02rtMi5MwR (The description)'. Below this is a search input field with the placeholder text 'Search' and a downward arrow. At the bottom are three buttons: 'Members of this cohort', 'Courses with this cohort', and 'Cancel'.

To search a cohort, we click on the "Search" input.

The two types of cohorts are not constituted the same way.

The system cohorts are constituted like this:

nameOfTheCohort (Description of the Cohort)

The category cohorts are constituted like this:

[Category] nameOfTheCohort (Description of the Cohort)

We can search for any element contained in the cohort name (name, description, category).

By clicking on the “Member of this cohort” button, you can have a list of the member of the cohort you selected before.
